

Bike Lanes

There are different types of bike lanes. These pictures depict two types of bike lanes.

This is a straight bike lane. Drivers should not cross over the line.

This is a dashed bike lane. As you can see the line is straight but then turns into a dashed bike lane where drivers can merge over to turn at an intersection, as long as they make sure the bike lane is clear.